about me

I'm Amber, a designer with five years' experience working across brand, digital, and print design in-house. I've delivered a wide range of work including marketing material, event branding, reports, presentations and web assets, supporting multiple teams across the business.

I focus on creating clear, purposeful design that works across different formats and audiences. I'm comfortable managing a varied workload, balancing multiple projects at once, and adapting quickly to changing priorities.

Outside of work, I volunteer for a local animal charity where I foster cats and kittens, which I find very rewarding. I'm also passionate about live music and enjoy going to gigs whenever I can, a recent highlight of mine was seeing Metallica live for the first time.
